Thank you, thank you, thank you for time away these last two weeks. I spent the first week in town relaxing and the second week being an adult and doing all the doctors' visits for the year. And thank you for your patience as I start back slowly. Paris allergens got me and I've spent the last 4-5 days moving from the bed to the couch and back with a respiratory infection. I'm on the mend and should be 100% in a couple of days. Which is good because.....

This Sunday is All Saints' Sunday. It is a day when we remember and honor those who have gone before us into their eternal home. It's a special day for all of us as we remember friends, family and neighbors. This year, we will lift up Ronnie Davis and Joan Veale, who both made their transition in this last year.

We will remember the hope we have because of the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. We will remember the promise that God is with us always, in life and in death and through all eternity. We will light candles as a way of honoring the light of Christ our loved ones shared with us and committing to follow their examples of faith, love and service.

If you have friends or neighbors who have lost loved ones this year, invite them to join us for this special service of remembrance.
