Here is a rough outline of Holy Week day by day according to Matthew's gospel. It's hard to pinpoint each exact thing because each gospel has slightly different details and we tend to mishmash them all together in our memories and storytelling. However, take a look and read the Matthew 21-28 this week to get the whole story in all its details. :)

Lenten Practice Ideas

Holy Week Lunches

This week we have the opportunity to gather in community for our Lenten practice. We sometimes forget in our American “individualistic” culture that Christianity is a communal faith. It was never meant to be done alone. So this week, make an effort to attend each day and hear from different ministers in our community as we share fellowship, food and faith together. I promise you will enjoy it!

Also, as part of our lunches, we collect an offering each day (don't feel obligated to give each day) to support the work of the Ministerial Alliance. Through this we are able to help people with medicine, utilities, food and housing needs when emergencies arise.
