Can you believe it is already September???? Where did the first 2/3 of this year go??? Time sure does move faster than it did when I was a kid!

This past week our community has faced the reality of how fast time moves and how none of us are promised anything more than the present moment. Mary Adams leaves a legacy of service to others - especially some of the most vulnerable among our elderly. Reagan Wilson leaves behind friends who still have their whole lives ahead of them. And we all grieve for them and pray for their families and friends.

On this Labor Day weekend, as we celebrate a day off and the unofficial end to summer, I encourage you to take some time and reflect upon the "labor" of your life. Who has encouraged you along the way? Who has made your journey more pleasant? Who taught you and showed you how to do your work?

Don't just let this be another day for a cookout at the lake. Consider who you need to encourage in work and/or in life. You never know the impact you might make. You never know when that opportunity might come again. Remember that we are all in this together. We need each other and we often miss it if we aren't careful. So, be intentional this Labor Day to make your "labor" count for the good of the world, not just the good of your retirement account!
